

In Control, Anywhere

HansaWorld Business Organiser

Be on top of your business

HansaWorld Enterprise for the Nokia Communicator gives full, online access to all parts of the ERP suite, enabling users to access and report on real-time data, as well as enter and edit information.

Users are no longer hampered by slow synchronisation of limited parts of corporate data. With HansaWorld Enterprise for the Nokia Communicator, you have your company information at your fingertips.

By enforcing real-time mobile computing, all workers will have secure and reliable access to the information they need on the road and senior managers will always have an up-to-the-minute snapshot of the business and cash-flow. This will lead to increased sales opportunities, reduced costs, better customer service, and a greater competitive edge for the business.

Increase productivity

- Mobile computing saves time. HansaWorld Enterprise for the Nokia Communicator links mobile employees to both their main office, and each other. No need to go to the information, you have all the information you need about your company, customers, employees and colleagues with you all the time.
- Mobile computing reduces costs. Using HansaWorld and the Communicator, the number of inbound calls from employees requiring customer information or internal facts and figures is reduced. As employees can access data from almost anywhere in the world, transportation costs can be reduced by bringing data to the employees rather than bringing the employees to the data.

Increase overall productivity. HansaWorld on the Communicator can reduce downtime, cut overtime, increase customer and employee satisfaction.

About the product: HansaWorld Business Organiser

HansaWorld Enterprise is one of the broadest ERP and CRM suites on the market. The solution has over 45 fully featured modules and a wide variety of functions that make it suitable for almost any business type. The cross-platform software enables LAN and WAN configurations with mixed servers and clients operating on the same network for a wide variety of specific industries, including hotels, restaurants, high-street retail, property management, contract renewals and maintenance, other service industries, and term rentals.

HansaWorld Enterprise is available for Symbian Series 80 and 90 phones.

All of this available real-time, anywhere. The system is easy to use and install.

Take advantage of your business phone!

